

TRANSFERRING TO A NEW COURSE

HEART OF WORCESTERSHIRE COLLEGE

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

STUDENT LOAN FUNDED

If you transfer to a new course and the new course fees are higher, you will have to speak to Student Finance England about increasing your loan amount. We are not allowed to increase your loan amount for you. If your loan amount isn't increased, you will need to pay the outstanding balance yourself.

If the new course fees are lower, we will decrease your loan amount for you.

SELF-FUNDED

If the new course fees are higher, you will still need to pay the full course fees.

If the new course fees are lower, please call us to change your payment plan (if you have one) or submit a Refund Request using the web link below if you have overpaid:

EMPLOYER TO PAY

If the new course fees are higher, we will contact your employer for the additional amount. However, if they choose not to pay, you will need to pay the fee yourself.

If the new course fees are lower, we will send the employer a credit note for the difference.

If you aren't enjoying your course or feel it isn't right for you, please speak to the Careers Service team! Withdrawing from a course after the three-week cooling off period can leave you paying for a course with nothing to show for it, and there may be other options, like transferring to a new course, which are more suitable for you.

If you'd like to speak to someone about the financial implications of leaving your course or transferring to a new one, please call 01905 725707 or email finance@howcollege.ac.uk.

WAYS TO PAY

AND

WAYS TO PAY

To register for a course you will be asked to complete an enrolment form, this forms part of your contract with the college and confirms the amount of tuition fees you will be charged for the academic year based on the course you are registered on. A payment method needs to be agreed at the time of enrolling as otherwise your enrolment will not be able to take place. As the student you are personally liable for the full tuition fee upon enrolment with the exception if you are taking out a loan, an employer is paying your fees or you have evidence of entitlement to fee remission. All courses must be paid in full before the end of the academic year (January and April starts will be given until November and January, respectively) as this may affect your future enrolments.

If you have a query relating to your tuition fee or making payment please raise this before completing an enrolment form or contact our Customer Services Team as soon as possible.

HOW TO MAKE A PAYMENT

Payment in full – can be made at enrolment

Payment Plans - A member of the Customer Services Team can put you through to Finance to set up a Recurring Card Payment plan at the time of enrolling.

You may be able to spread the cost of your course by credit/debit card instalments.

If your course fees are less than £250, payment will be required in full at enrolment.

If your course fees are £250 or more, we can split those up into four payments with the first payment being a third of the cost payable on enrolment.

The remaining amount will be split into three further payments which are to be collected in November, January and March. Some exceptions will apply, please contact us on the details below to clarify.

ESOL students – fees can be paid in two payments, with the first being payable at enrolment. The balance must be cleared before the 8th November of each academic year.

I have an Advanced Learner Loan - If you have an approved Advanced Learner Loan to cover the cost of your tuition fees please provide your loan award notice.

Student Finance England is paying my fees - Please bring your 'University or College Payment Advice' page of your award notification confirming your tuition fees are being funded.

My employer is paying my fees - If your employer is paying for your course, you will need to provide a confirmation letter from them on company letterhead, or an email which includes the company address details and a contact email at the company. This letter needs to state your name, the course and the amount they are prepared to fund, together with details of where the invoice should be sent to and any purchase order number if required. This letter/email must be given in at enrolment and we accept 14 days credit terms.

If you have any queries regarding any of the above please contact the following:

WITHDRAWING FROM YOUR COURSE

All students have a three-week cooling off period to decide whether or not they wish to continue the course. If you choose to leave before the three weeks is up, you will not be charged for the course. If you have already received an invoice from us, you can submit a Fee Remission Request using the web link below:

<https://webapps.howcollege.ac.uk/RefundRequests/RefundRequest/Create>

STUDENT LOAN FUNDED

If you chose to leave after the 3-week cooling off period you will be liable for the full fee for the academic year. If you choose to withdraw from the course before the end date, you will still be charged the full course fees. Your loan will cover the time you attended and the remaining amount will need to come from you.

For example:

Bill has an Advanced Learner Loan for £1800 to cover his hairdressing course fees.

Bill starts his course in September and it is due to finish in July.

In February, after attending for 5 months, Bill decides he doesn't like hairdressing anymore and wants to leave.

Bill's loan will pay for the 5 months he was at college which equals £1000 (£1800 divided by 9 month course equals £200 per month. Multiplied by 5 months attendance equals £1000).

Bill has to pay the remaining £800 from his own pocket.

SELF-FUNDED/EMPLOYER

If your employer is paying for your course and you choose to withdraw, it is between you and your employer as to who pays the fees. However, if your employer decides they no longer want to pay, you are then responsible for the full course fees.
